SEVENTY DOLLARS A COUNT

That is the Amount Which the Police
Judge is Taxing the Joint
Keepers in His Court

The trial of the men recently raided on information secured by the temperance people for breaking the city ordinance against the sale of liquor began in police court last Tuesday Judge Cullison adjourned his court to the court house in order to give the audience a chance to attend and the room was crowded, many women being present. Some of the liquor men had lawyers and some had not. It didn't seem to make much difference.

John Kennedy was the first defendant. Mr. Howard and Mr. Manley both swore that on a certain day they bought a pint of whisky each from him. The court fined $70 on each count and $4.10 costs on each count. C. S. Ritter, his attorney, served notice that the cases would be appealed.

Jim Allen was the next victim. R. L. Manley swore to the purchase of a half pint of whisky, producing the said pint in court. John Henderson swore to the presence of fixtures, and Miss Southard to the removal of boxes and cases from the place. Fine $70; costs $5.10.

R. L. Manley gave a minute description of how he gained entrance to the rear room of "McCarley's Smoke House" and saw fixtures and bottles, men drinking, and bought a half pint. It cost him thirty cents. Herbert A. Ewing was willing to swear to another sale, but G. R. Gard objected to the introduction of this testimony and the court sustained his point. Manley exhibited another bottle. Fine $70 and costs $5.10.

Herbert A. Ewing testified that on April 8th he found his way to the rear room of the Smoke House, walked up to the bar and bought a pint of whisky from McCarley, first name unknown. R. L. Manley wanted to testify to having been present and to seeing the bar the same day but he was ruled out. Ewing's testimony was sufficient, but he could not swear which one of the younger McCarley's sold him the liquor. He said it was the taller of the younger ones. Mr. Gard thought that rather indefinite. There seemed no way to produce the defendant in court so the witness could identify him. The court held judgment and adjourned court until after dinner.

After dinner court resumed its sitting and the judge decided that the evidence was not sufficient to identify Al McCarley who was arrested. As the party who sold to H. A. Ewing. So the case was dismissed.

T. E. Birnbaum took the stand and swore to having bought a pint of apple brandy from Wilhelm Speckbottle at a place on north Washington avenue. He took a swig of it and remained in the place long enough to recover his breath, quite a while. He was fined $70 and costs $4.10.

The cases against Lyman Ford, L. D. Montgomery, Jim Mill and Mr. Drackett were continued until the afternoon of April 22.

The court then ordered the men convicted brought before him to pay their fines, give appeal bonds or go to jail. The police began hunting them and took them before the court as fast as they could be found.

There is every reason to believe that all will appeal to the district court, giving bond for their appearance. The bond was fixed at $100 on each count.

Joints Ordered Closed

There was a meeting in the office of Mayor Campbell Monday that was of public interest, but which only a few were privileged to attend. The result of the meeting was positive orders to the police to close the joints and keep them closed.

The police, it seems, have been saying that they would close the joints but they had no orders to do so. They declined to take such responsibility on their selves. They so informed the temperance people. Yesterday evening a committee consisting of C. C. McCarty, R. L. Manley, Rev. Mr. Merry, Mrs. Flindley, Mrs. Kimmons and Miss Southard called on the Mayor and asked him to give orders to close the joints. He said he had so ordered long ago, in order that there be no mistake the police were sent for and before the meeting were given positive instructions.

The dialogue which took place was about as follows:

The police said they could.
The mayor said they should.
The police declared they would.
The air-tightness was supposed to have become operative next morning. The mayor gave the officers a plain

Bird-Shot For Tiger.

No use to hunt tigers with bird-shot. It doesn't hurt the tiger any and it's awfully risky for you.

Consumption is a tiger among diseases. It is stealthy—but once started it rapidly eats up the flesh and destroys the life. No use to go hunting it with ordinary food and medicine. That's only bird-shot. It still advances. Good heavy charges of Scott's Emulsion will stop the advance. The disease feels that.

Scott's Emulsion makes the body strong to resist. It soothes and toughens the lungs and sustains the strength until the disease wears itself out.

City Sued for $1,450.

Some time ago the REGISTER noted the fact that a bill had been presented to the city council by John J. Creed, asking for damages for an injury sustained by him in a fall near the Methodist church. The council either did not allow the bill or was slow; at any rate he has brought suit in district court for $1,450. He says he fell January 24, 1902, where the cement walk on Madison avenue ends and the flag stone walk, several inches lower begins, in front of the church. The walk was icy. He itemizes his claim thus: Expense $200; permanent injury $1,000; lost wages at smelter $150; mental anguish $100.

F. E. Keyser, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Duncan, and others interested, have brought suit in district court against the Kansas Property Improvement Co., an organization of Iola men, charging that they sold to the defendants a strip of ground on the agreement that said strip was thrown forever open to the public. They fear that the Company will defraud them by retaining title to the strip and ask that it be dedicated as a street to the public or doled back to them.

The Farmers and Mechanics Lumber Company of Moran asks to have the house of Mrs. Sarah Lambeth and two lots in Moran sold for a lumber bill. The company claims $273.32 due. L. D. Weber also has a claim, F. P. Lewis another and Chas. Mendell one for about $100. The company wants the property sold and the proceeds divided.

Build a $20,000 Church

There was a meeting of the building committee of the Presbyterian church this week to talk over the matter of the new church which the Presbyterians at a recent congregational meeting decided to build on their lots on east Madison avenue. It was at first suggested that a $15,000 building would be about what is wanted but at the meeting last Tuesday the sentiment prevailed that $20,000 would come nearer the amount desired for the building. Subscriptions will be solicited and it is probable that the foundation will be put in this fall and allowed to stand and settle until spring of 1903.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake is Made by all
Iola Citizens.

Don't mistake the cause of backache. To be cured you must know the cause. It is wrong to imagine relief is cure. Backache is kidney ache. You must cure the kidneys. An Iola resident tells you how this can be done.

Mr. T. H. Jones, Smelter, of No. 420 Jefferson street, says: "A child of mine was constantly complaining of a weak back. She was frequently unable to attend school and could not carry a three quart pail of water. Lately the pain was continual. Knowing that if such conditions were not attended to the case would become chronic, I was constantly on the outlook for medicine to help her, but until I went to C. B. Spencer & Co.'s drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills, I met with very indifferent success. The treatment has entirely cured her. She is attending school at present and romps around with the other children as if nothing ever ailed her back."

For sale by all dealers; price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FAIR COMMISSIONERS HERE

Gentlemen in Charge of the Kansas
Exhibit at St. Louis Make Iola
First on Their Tour

The Kansas commissioners, appointed to look after the Kansas exhibit at the St. Louis exposition, have started on their tour of the State and came to Iola for their first work. The members of the commission are John C. Carpenter, Chanute, C. H. Luling, Wichita, D. E. Palmer, Topeka, W. P. Waggoner, Atchison, R. L. Simons, Caldwell.

Last Tuesday, in company with A. L. Taylor, W. H. McClure and T. S. Stover, they drove out to the cement plant where they were courteously shown through the big works by the officials. It is hoped to use Portland cement in the St. Louis building which Kansas will erect and to have the Iola Company make an exhibit.

The bricks plants, smelters, rolling mill, acid works and other industries were visited in the afternoon and they also solicited for help in erecting a building and filling it with suitable exhibits. It has been suggested that the Kansas building should be built entirely of Kansas material, and in that case Iola cement and brick will be part of the structure.

The commission has gone on its way, but it will see nothing to compare with what it saw here. The members are now missionaries to spread as far as they can the news of Iola's manufacturing and as one of them is interested in a newspaper their reports cannot fail to attract favorable attention to the town. Their visit also proves that even Kansas people do not know Iola as she is and that there is a need of more and accurate advertising.

The Commercial Club Met

Last Monday at the court room of the county court house members of the new commercial club to the number of fifty or more gathered to talk things over and adopt a constitution and get ready to buckle down to work.

Various features of the constitution were discussed, amended or approved. It was decided to delay the publication of the same until some time in the future and a further delay of ten days was allowed the committee on membership to secure "charter" members. Prof. G. P. Grimsley, of Topeka, and Col. J. C. Carpenter of Chanute, were elected honorary members of the club for the kindly offices which they have already performed for Iola.

It was decided to issue a pamphlet setting forth the city, its past, present and future and scatter these where they will do the most good.

The Entertainment Committee and the Trade Extension Committee were instructed to meet the Kansas world's fair commissioners and assist them in every way possible in securing a good exhibit from Iola for the St. Louis exposition.

The New Foundry Men.

An Aurora, Mo., dispatch to the Joplin News-Herald says, of the recent deal made here:

C. M. Cole and Jared Woodfill, of the Aurora Foundry and Machine Works, while at Iola, Kansas, this week, closed a deal for the purchase of the foundry and machine works at that place, and which is to be run in connection with the Aurora plant.

The Iola plant is run principally upon work for the smelters, and as a considerable amount of it will have to be done in Aurora, owing to the greater facilities for building every description of heavy machinery, it will necessitate the employing of a much larger force of workmen, and, perhaps, also make it necessary to greatly enlarge the home plant.

Besides the above, the purchase of the Iola plant will give the company much greater shipping facilities, as they will not only have the Frisco, but also the Missouri Pacific, the M. K. & T., and the Santa Fe roads.

Lanyon Given Gas Well.

Neodesha, Kan., April 12.—Neodesha has fulfilled a contract with the Lanyon Bros. Smelter company by drifting in and delivering to the Lanyons a gas well measuring in volume four million cubic feet of gas each twenty-four hours. The Lanyons, formerly of Iola, commenced building a large zinc smelter here about two months ago, asking as a bonus only the site and the guarantee of a gas well flowing four million cubic feet per day. The Lanyons were willing to pay for the drilling of the well if it was of that capacity. The first well was spoiled by salt water and the citizens were $1,000 out. The second well first touched the gas sand at about a thousand feet. The Lanyons have their smelter about half up. It covers about six acres of ground and will have a pay roll of about $9,000 a month.

Will Seek Renomination.

Elsewhere in the REGISTER will be found the announcements of Miss Frances Wilson and Mr. J. B. Smith. Miss Wilson is the present county treasurer and Mr. Smith the probate judge and they will ask their Republican friends to re-elect them to these positions.

It is difficult to say nice things about either that everybody else has not been thinking and saying all the time. Miss Wilson served a long apprenticeship as deputy treasurer, doing the hard work for the short end of the salary, for several of her predecessors. Then she asked for the office and the Republicans promptly and enthusiastically elected her knowing that she would be efficient and careful and satisfactory. In asking for a renomination Miss Wilson has not a single thing to apologize for or explain. She has done the work as well or better than any treasurer Allen County ever had and she is but asking the vote of approval which precedent in this county has always granted to faithful servants. She will undoubtedly be given the Republican nomination by acclamation and be re-elected by a large majority.

Judge Smith, for a man, is nearly as nice as Miss Wilson is for a lady. He is earnest and honest and conscientious, and besides he has learned from experience the things that the Probate Judge should know. If you were going to choose a foster father for an orphan, a guardian for the estate of a widow, you would want him to be honest and conscientious and skilled, wouldn't you? If you died you would rather have to think that your beloved child and your little estate would be put in charge of someone chosen solely by politics. Judge Smith has proven himself the right man in the right place. So when he asks to be re-elected the Republican party will more than likely say "amen" and that means that his request will be granted.

Eugene Ware's Poker Game

From the Kansas City Star.
Eugene Ware, the poet and lawyer who is to succeed H. Clay Evans as commissioner of pensions, once played a game of poker for a seat in Congress and, although he won the game, he was defeated for the nomination by one of the men who sat in the game with him. This game was played in the Copeland hotel in the early 80's, during a session of Kansas legislature. A bill to redistrict the state into congressional districts was to be framed and passed. In the senate were a number of members who aspired to congressional honors. Included in the list of "would-be" congressmen was every one of the senators forming the committee whose duty it was to frame a bill redistricting the state. They wrangled over the bill, each member striving to secure a bill that would forward his ambition to congressional honors. The session was drawing to a close, and there seemed no chance of an agreement.

Finally it was agreed to play a game of "freeze out," the winner to report a bill that would suit him. E. H. Funston, W. J. Buchan, W. P. Hackney and Eugene Ware and two or three other members of the committee sat down to a table in an upstairs room of the Copeland hotel.

The stake was worth playing for, and it was hours before the game seemed near an end. One by one they dropped out until Buchan and Ware were the only ones in the game. Finally Ware won all the chips. He reported a bill forming the Second congressional district practically as it exists to-day, with the exception of Allen county. Funston had thought the matter over and had concluded to demur to the report. He arose in his place in the senate chamber and intimated that Senator Ware's report had not been adopted by the committee, and suggested that he would not stand for it. Whereupon Senator Hackney declared in his emphatic way that the report was all right. "We played a game of poker for it," said Hackney, "and Ware won."

The bill passed the senate, but was amended in the, adding Allen county, Funston's home county, to the Second district. This bill finally became a law. Following the death of Dudley C. Haskell, the congressman from the Second district, Funston entered the race for the nomination and was elected. He served five terms and was finally retired in a convention which remained in session for six weeks before the Funston forces could be broken. O. L. Miller of Wyandotte county succeeded Funston. He remained but one term and was succeeded by Mason S. Peters, the fusion nominee, who defeated Jack Harris of Ottawa, the Republican nominee. Then Congressman Bowersock was elected and served one term and was renominated for a second term a few weeks ago.

Speaking of the "Doings."

Among the comments of the state press on the recent happenings in this city, the REGISTER has discovered and reprints the following:

Topeka Capital: There is war on in Iola against the joints, waged by women; but it is pleasant to note that those having the matter in charge have declared against the adoption of any Nation's methods.

Atchison Globe: During a recent saloon row in Iola a minister was whipped and mistreated on the streets. Rows of this kind are disgraceful and unnecessary. They do not promote the cause of temperance. On the contrary, they promote bad temper, intemperance, and everything unworthy. There is a better way. Kansas people should quit these foolish quarrels.

Atholison quit them long ago and likes the experiment. It finds, also, that a more sensible policy promotes temperance, as well as peace and decency.

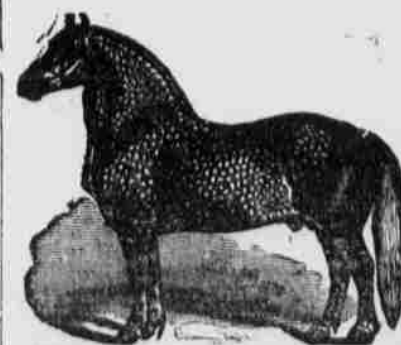

Pittsburg Tribune: The joints at Iola are closed. It is a spasmodic affair. In thirty days they will blossom again.

You Have Seen

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin advertised for months, but have you ever tried it? If not, you do not know what an ideal stomach remedy it is. STEEL DUST

STEEL DUST is a handsome dark bay, sired by an imported thoroughbred Egg 1st Turf Horse, Hisdams a Kentucky steel dust mare with a record of 2:28. He weighs about 1250 and is 16 hands high, and is a good all round general purpose horse. STEEL DUST was formerly owned by Joe Esbaugh.

STEEL DUST will make the season as follows: Mondays and Tuesdays at the James Finley place, five miles east and one mile south of Humboldt. The balance of the week at the Iola Fair Grounds.

TERMS: $5.00 to insure living colt. When mare is parted with or moved from the county the charge for service becomes immediately due.

Care will be taken to prevent accidents, but we will not be responsible should any occur.
